

COMMITTEES GO LIVE ...

Hi Friends,

Though voluntary works are not the most popular in Egypt, amazingly; a number of very distinguished population interested in Project Management as the cutting-edge promoted solution to the utmost benefit that could be gained out of a variety of businesses, have joined the different committees to have them go active and to help in driving them towards their designated targets for which they were initiated.

Volunteers from different industries enthusiastically pertained to attend more than one committee, adding views, taking tasks, and sharing vital input, with the hope of making our PM community a better place whether for PMI Mena Chapter's members through the Member Benefits committee, or through boosting ideas as how to promote the Project Management education to the widest range of interested pioneers by the help of the Registered Educational Providers in Egypt for which the committee was formed to maintain a win-win situation balancing the interests of several parties therein; the education seekers, the certification seekers, and the educational organizations, in the light of PMI and PMI Mena Chapter's vision and mission, and strategy alignment.

Also a kick-off meeting for the Public Relations Committee which aims to improve the communication between all groups involved within the PM community has taken place. This Newsletter is the early born of this committee where all volunteering members whether with the habit of editing or else, were encouraged to have their input by editing and communicating to you their feelings, hopes, plans and valued information. Also by checking the web-site, you will be able to recognize the efforts that have been done and follow up on it.

All active committees are still in the phase of getting acquainted with each other as members, setting basic goals, and placing a smooth achievable Action Plan to start with, exploring oneself and team's capabilities to work together and accomplish. We gained new friends, wider connections, enjoyed the team work, and enjoyed exploring ourselves as how useful we could be where voluntary work does not constitute stress in terms of routine or mandatory environment, but how could a group of people have the initiative to make this world a better place.

Friends; we encourage you to be the reason for more minds, more hands, and more morale, to support our active committees, and to help the inactive committees to become a part of the matrix that strengthen our community and reflect on one's.

In further newsletters we will share together the successes of the committees and other related issues to each committee individually, and have you become a part of this even only by sharing our news.
